Detailed Action

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on February 21, 2006 has been entered.

Reasons for Allowance

1. Claims 22,36, and 37 are allowed (renumbered 1-3).
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

This application is for a top spin valve giant magnetoresistive (GMR).

- Claim 22 specifies a top spin valve giant magnetoresistive (GMR), which requires:

"...the opposite lateral edges of said layered configuration being shaped to form a substantially vertical second side region, a substantially vertical first side region distal to said second side region and a horizontal region extending between said first and second side regions, said regions being covered by said first capping layer wherein the first side region extends vertically from a position between said metallic non-magnetic coupling layer and said metallic, non-magnetic spacer layer to the substrate and wherein said second side region extends vertically from the capping layer through said AP2 layer to a point between said metallic non-magnetic coupling layer and said metallic, non-magnetic spacer layer; and a longitudinal hard magnetic bias layer formed in a contiguous junction against said first side region, said bias layer being covered by a second capping layer; a conducting lead layer, formed over said longitudinal hard magnetic bias layer, said lead layer electrically contacting said horizontal region and said second side region of said sensor element and forming, thereby, a lead overlay configuration."

These features, in combination with the other features of Claim 22, are not anticipated by, nor made obvious over, the prior art of record.

Art Unit: 2653

3. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
